Investments In Gambling Will Not Be Profitable While Dan Is Head Man

(By Jack Sutor)

Apparently it's going to be a long rough four years for the liberal or gambling element in Florida. Governor-elect Dan McCarty in a series of firm and unrelenting statements recently, left little doubt that his attitude is definitely hostile to the liberal group that has had its ups and downs for half a century in Florida.

There have been changes in the public attitude toward gambling during the Warren administration. An excellent judge of public opinion, Fuller Warren almost missed that change in public thinking after he came into office. However, it wasn't long before he cracked down. On account of his long years in public life, Warren was well aware of the old and tolerant public attitude toward gambling that had existed in Florida for fifty years.

That tolerance can be traced to two points of view. In the first place, during the past fifty years, Florida has been a rollicking and robust frontier area. In the space of that time, it has grown with miraculous speed. Rarely is a frontier concerned too greatly about the moralities in contrast to a more settled and sedate community.

In the second place, during that same period of time Florida has been a resort state with a large part of its population believing that the visitor is entitled to his entertainment no matter what. It was good business for the sky to be the limit they thought.

Of late years certain unsavory characters from the tenderloins of the big cities appeared in places on the Florida gambling scene.

Fearful that they might eventually gain too much influence in state and local government, certain influential newspapers launched a crusade against commercial gambling.

When Senator Spessard Holland was governor, he ousted a sheriff for allegedly not enforcing the gambling laws, only to have the people of that county vote him back in at the next election. That strengthened Governor Millard Caldwell in his belief in the responsibility of local people for carrying on their own affairs, including the enforcement of the gambling laws.

By the time Fuller Warren came into office in 1949, the anti-gambling crusade was in full cry. The newspapers had stepped up their pace. Church and civic groups were alarmed. Crime committees were formed. Attorney General Dick Ervin entered the fray at the beginning of his administration. There were the sensational revelations of the Kefauver Committee.

ALL FLORIDA COUNTIES "IN THE BLACK" in the '1953 March of Dimes campaign, starting Jan. 2, is the aim of Joe Hall, Miami, state chairman. He points to Okaloosa, which with Brevard, Dade, Broward and Monroe counties, was "in the black" in the 1952 campaign with 50c or more raised per capita. Mrs. C. E. Dunaway, Miami, state advisor for women's activities for southern Florida, smiles encouragement.

The legislature had its Haley Committee. Governor Warren suspended several sheriffs. Gambling became an issue in the gubernatorial campaign last spring. By his record and his word, Dan McCarty was for strict enforcement of the laws against gambling.

So, it would appear with Mc-

Carthy and Ervin throwing a one-two punch during the next four years, investments in gambling equipment will not be profitable.

Rep. and Mrs. B. Elliott had as a guest the past week their nephew, Charles Marshall, of Sebring.

Beef Cattle Show In Orlando Feb. 23-28

ORLANDO—For the first time in the 40-year history of the Central Florida Exposition a beef cattle show will be held in conjunction with the annual event, it has been announced by Crawford T. Bickford, fair manager.

Bickford said that in staging the beef show from Feb. 23 through Feb. 28, directors felt they would be throwing the spotlight on the cattle industry, one of the region's fastest growing.

Jerry Ross, well known in the cattle industry throughout the state, will be general superintendent of the beef cattle show and more than $2500 in cash awards has been made available. Grand champions in each of the four sections—Aberdeen Angus, Brahman, Herefords and Shorthorns—will be awarded special banners and rosettes will be presented in several other classes within each division.

The competition is restricted, of course, to Florida breeders only. All entries must be made on printed forms furnished by the Central Florida Exposition and must be submitted prior to January 15.

The Florida State Advertising Commission is predicting a $1,000,000,000 winter tourist season for the state. Last year's business brought an estimated $950,000,000 into the coffers.

Wonderful Spirit In "Dimes" Campaign

MIAMI—"One of the finest things I observed in my recent trip around Florida to attend 14 March of Dimes district meetings was the wonderful spirit of the volunteer workers who will take part in the 1953 campaign."

That statement was made recently by Joe Hall, Miami, state chairman of the 1953 dimes campaign, now under way in Florida with a goal of $1,050,000.

"Up in Lake City, the district campaign advisor, W. E. Bishop, was brimming over with ideas.

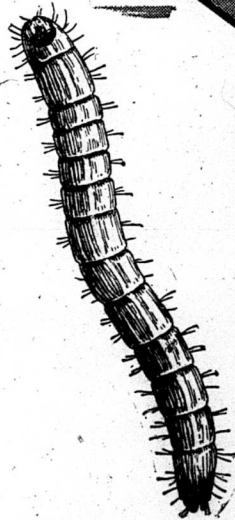

"In that city they are going to ask every civic club to take a March of Dimes fund-raising project," Hall said.

He recalled that down in Key West, where Bill Neblett is county campaign director, they are planning over 20 separate March of Dimes activities.

"In Orlando, which is Orange county, with Bob Murphy as campaign director, they say that their Mothers' March on Polio will outdo the one in Dade county, headed by Mrs. Sydney L. Weintraub, and of course all of them would have to go some to beat the per capita contributions in Cocoa Beach, where Thomas Caldwell is Brevard county campaign director, and they will probably raise about $15,000 per capita," Hall said.

"Best of all, these thousands of workers believe in voluntary giving, the words you see on March of Dimes posters, and when the need for Polio funds is understood, people do give voluntarily," Hall declared.

Best way to control wireworm on corn, sugar cane and sweet potatoes

aldrin

Aldrin—approved by agricultural authorities for control of certain soil pests—has established a fine record for wireworm control on sugar cane, corn and sweet potatoes.

Easy-to-use aldrin can be applied to soil in two ways:

1. Apply aldrin directly on the ground, as dust or spray, and harrow it in when preparing seed beds.
2. Have your supplier mix aldrin with your fertilizer and apply with conventional row treatment.

Using either method aldrin is applied in small amounts . . . it's economical. Aldrin gets other insects at the same time. It controls rootworm and other pests . . . is now approved for controlling wireworm on sweet potatoes.

Make your next crop a profitable one, free of wireworm and other destructive insects . . . use aldrin before planting. Your dealer will be glad to give additional information.

Miss Echols Weds Edward E. Stanley

Miss Lois Lucille Echols, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grady T. Echols of Canal Point, became the bride of Edward E. Stanley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Stanley of Pahokee, at a candlelight, double ring ceremony held at the Canal Point Baptist Church Tuesday, Dec. 30, at 7 p. m.

The vows were read by the Rev. C. J. Smyly, pastor, as the couple stood before the altar which was decked with white gladioli and blue iris against a background of tropical greenery and lighted by tall blue tapers in branched candelabras.

Proceeding the ceremony a program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Ronald C. Stanley, pianist, and Robert O. Lampi, baritone, who sang "Oh, Promise Me" and "Because."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was of white chantilly lace over ice blue satin, with ballerina-length skirt. Attached to the matching headpiece was a short illusion veil. She wore white sandals and gloves and carried a bouquet of white carnations with a purple orchid corsage in the center.

Miss Betty Jo Barwick of Pahokee, the bride's only attendant, served as maid of honor. She wore pink taffeta with a pink net overskirt and matching headpiece and carried a carnation bouquet.

Richard G. Johnson, Jr., of West Palm Beach, was Mr. Stanley's best man. Ronald C. Stanley of Clewiston, brother of the bridegroom, and John C. Hutton of Pahokee acted as ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Geiger in Canal Point. Portions of the wedding cake were served by Miss Dorothy Chastain, assisted by Miss Margaret Powell. Mrs. Charles Maxson and Mrs. L. V. McClelland presided at the punch bowl.

Mrs. Echols chose for her daughter's wedding a dark aqua crepe dress of street length with pink and white accessories and a white carnation corsage. Mrs. Stanley, the bridegroom's mother, wore a pink iridescent taffeta dress with black accessories and her corsage also was of white carnations.

After a brief wedding trip in Florida, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley will make their home in the Elam Apartments at Canal Point.

Cinematic Chatter

By Malcolm Millar

Hello everybody! James Arness, a broth' of a man who stands six feet, six and one half inches tall, sometimes is inclined to be self conscious about the way he towers into the stratosphere. On such occasions he reminds himself about the time he was grateful for every inch of his height, and he is again content. It came on so bitter afternoon on the Anzio beachhead, when a German rifle bullet crashed into Jim's right leg, shattering the shinbone a little below the knee. "If I'd been a few inches shorter it would have wrecked the knee cap," recalled Jim. "So I've got reason to be thankful for my height." Arness, whom you will remember in the title role in "The Thing," which won him real movie recognition, has an important starring role with John Wayne in "Big Jim McLain." Arness, a native of Minneapolis, put in a year at Earl College before entering the Army. When the service medicos got through with him he decided he was too restless to go back to school, so he came to Hollywood to try to break into the movies. He got the first one when he was picked to play one of the brothers in "The Farmers Daughter," starring Loretta Young. Then movie jobs became scarce and Jim made his living selling advertising and real estate. Some time later he again tried his luck at acting. This time, good fortune smiled on him. He was assigned roles in a series of action films, and he rose steadily in popularity among producers and directors. Now Arness is very much in demand for the particular roles he so aptly fits into. See you at the movies—Mal.

Christian Science Group Of Canal Point

Services in all Christian Science churches next Sunday will stress the sustaining presence and power of God. Subject of the Lesson-Sermon is "GOD".

The Golden Text is from Isaiah (45:22): "Look unto me, and be ye saved, all the ends of the earth: for I am God, and there is none else."

Elijah's raising of the widow's son is one of the Bible narratives to be read: "And the Lord heard the voice of Elijah; and the soul of the child came unto him again, and he revived (I Kings 17:22)."

Correlative citations from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "Instead of God sending sickness and death, He destroys them, and brings to light immortality. . . . God does not cause man to sin, to be sick, or to die" (p. 206).

Sugarland Fair Is Scheduled Jan. 27-31

The trip through this plant is well worth a visit to the Sugarland Fair and Exposition which is being sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars at Clewiston in celebration of the thirtieth anniversary of the founding of Hendry County.

Visitors to the Fair will be able to see the complete process of the manufacturing of raw sugar from the time the cane reaches the mill, is dumped into the spectacular knives, until it emerges as raw sugar. The tour will be conducted on a daily and hourly basis, direct from the Fair grounds.

Visitors to the Fair, traveling by way of Federal Highway 27, will pass through some of the finest dairy and beef cattle ranges in the state. In addition, they will have an opportunity to avail themselves of fine fresh water fishing from the adjacent Lake Okeechobee region.

This means more money to you!

NOW YOUR U. S. SERIES E BONDS CAN EARN INTEREST
10 EXTRA YEARS

ALL YOU WISE and patriotic people who bought United States Series E Bonds ten years ago and have held them can benefit by this new law! For according to this law the bonds you expected to mature finally in 1952 can now continue to earn interest every year for ten more years—till 1962—without your even lifting a finger!

To get this extra money, there's absolutely nothing you have to do. Just hold your bonds and let them go on earning!

If you wish, you may still cash any Series E Bond at any time after you've owned it for sixty days. But you'll be better off to hold your bonds, just as you're better off to hold savings in any form.

First of all, as long as you don't cash your bonds, you don't have to pay income tax on the interest they earn. In the second place, cash in the pocket melts away fast—often with little or nothing to show for it. But cash in bond savings is always there—growing steadily toward the big sum which can buy something really worthwhile... And remember—the interest rate on Series E Bonds has been increased to 3% compounded semi-annually, when held to maturity.

So if you have bonds coming due, why not take advantage of your extra-income opportunity? Just sit back and let them go on making more money for you. And meanwhile keep adding to your cash savings by buying more U. S. Defense Bonds regularly—through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. It's the easy, systematic saving plan that's so helpful because it lets you save before you even draw your pay. Thousands on the Plan say it's the one sure way to save.

3 NEW MONEY-MAKING OPPORTUNITIES FOR YOU!

*New Series H, J, and K
Defense Bonds pay 2.76% to 3%!*

If you want to get the interest on your bonds in the form of current income, or if you want to invest more than the annual limit for E Bonds, ask at any Federal Reserve Bank or Branch about these new bonds:

SERIES H. A new current income bond, available in denominations of $500 to $100,000. Sold at par. Matures in 9 years 8 months and pays approximately 3% interest per annum if held to maturity. Interest paid semiannually by Treasury check. Annual limit, $20,000 maturity value. Issued only by Federal Reserve Banks and Branches and at the Treasury.

SERIES J. A new 12-year appreciation bond, available in denominations of $25 to $100,000. Sold at 72% of par value. Pays 2.76% compounded semiannually if held to maturity. Annual limit, $200,000 issue price jointly with Series K Bonds.

SERIES K. A new 12-year current-income bond in denominations of $500 to $100,000. Pays interest semi-annually by Treasury check at the rate of 2.76% per annum. Sold at par. Annual limit, $200,000 issue price jointly with Series J Bonds.
